THE OLYMPIC OATH

This is the address given to all competitors in the Olympic Games, after they had finished training.

• • • • • • "IF YOU HAVE EXERCISED YOURSELVES IN A MANNER WORTHY OF OLYMPIA, IF YOU HAVE BEEN GUILTY OF NO SLOTHFUL OR IGNOBLE ACT, GO ON WITH GOOD COURAGE. YOU WHO HAVE NOT SO PRACTICED, GO WHITHER YOU WILL."

IN THE CLASSIC WORLD OF GREEK ANTIQUITY ATHLETICS WAS CONSIDERED THE FULL EDUCATIONAL EQUAL OF SCHOLASTIC ENDEAVOR. TO THIS REALIZATION, THAT THE BODY IS OF AS GREAT IMPORTANCE AS THE MIND, SCHOLARS HAVE OFTEN ASCRIBED THE ASTOUNDING BRILLIANCE OF GREEK CIVILIZATION. THIS SAME CONCEPT HAD ILLUSTRATION OF ITS VALUE IN THE GREATEST MEN OF GREECE. XENOPHON WAS NOT ONLY THE WRITER OF THE "ANABASIS" BUT ALSO A TRAINED ATHLETE WHO HEADED THE TEN THOUSAND DURING THEIR IMMORTAL MARCH. SOCRATES WAS AS GREAT A WRESTLER AS HE WAS A THINKER. WHO CAN SAY THAT THE WONDERS OF PHIDIAS WERE WROUGHT BY MIND ALONE? CAME THE DARK AGES, HOWEVER, AND THIS IDEAL OF "MENS SANA IN CORPORE SANO" WAS ALLOWED TO DROOP, WITH THE RESULT THAT THE TYPICAL MIDDLE AGE SCHOLAR WAS A GAUNT ESTHETE. FROM THIS TYPE OF THINKER THE NARROW SCHOLASTICISM OF THE DARK PERIOD WAS THE INEVITABLE RESULT. IN RECENT TIMES, HOWEVER, WE ARE BEGINNING TO APPRECIATE THE CLASSIC IDEAL OF PHYSICAL AS WELL AS MENTAL PERFECTION, AND, WITH SUCH AN IDEAL INCORPORATED IN THE CURRICULA OF OUR INSTITUTIONS OF HIGHER LEARNING, WHO CAN SAY THAT A NEW RENAISSANCE MAY

UNDER THE MODERN UNIVERSITY SYSTEM VARSITY SPORTS ARE THE COLLEGIATE ACTIVITIES WHICH, PERHAPS, ATTRACT THE GREATEST ATTENTION OF OUTSIDERS. IN FACT, IN THE MINDS OF THE UNTUTORED A UNIVERSITY'S REPUTATION OFTEN HINGES ON THE SUCCESS OF ITS ATHLETIC TEAMS. IT IS TO BE HOPED THAT WE OF WASHINGTON AND LEE HAVE A MORE REPRESENTATIVE SENSE OF VALUES. IT WOULD SEEM WE DO, FOR WHAT WE BOAST OF IN OUR TEAMS IS NOT SUCCESS, BUT IS THE FACT THAT, AHEAD OR BEHIND, AT THE END OF THE GAME THE TEAM IS STILL FIGHTING. THIS DETERMINATION HAS BEEN RECOGNIZED IN NEWSPAPERS, MAGAZINES, BOOKS, IN SHORT, IN EVERYTHING BUT ANNUALS. IT IS FITTING, THEN, THAT REMEMBERING THIS INDOMITABLE SPIRIT, WE DEDICATE THE 1936 "CALYX" TO THE AHLTETIC TEAMS OF

SERENE UNITY

DR. FRANCIS PENDLETON GAINES

IN OUR PRESIDENT WE HAVE THE EXTRAORDINARY PARADOX OF A PRACTICAL VISIONARY, A MAN WHOSE FORESIGHT IS EQUALLED ONLY BY HIS LOVE FOR WASHINGTON AND LEE. UNDER HIS WISE GUIDANCE THE UNIVERSITY HAS ACHIEVED NOT ONLY ITS GREATEST ENROLLMENT OF STUDENTS, BUT HAS NOW IN PROGRESS THE GREATEST IMPROVEMENT PLAN IN ITS HISTORY. TO MEASURE HIS ACCOMPLISHMENTS FROM THE MATERIAL SIDE ALONE, HOWEVER, AND TO LEAVE UNNOTICED WHAT IS EVEN GREATER, HIS IDEALISTIC CONTRIBUTION TO THE WELFARE OF THE SCHOOL, WOULD BE TO DO HIM AN INJUSTICE. HIS SPIRIT IS ONE WHICH MUST BOW BEFORE NONE OF HIS PREDECESSORS. EVEN WHEN HE STANDS BEFORE THE RECUMBENT STATUE OF OUR GREAT LEADER HIMSELF, HIS VOICE SERVING AS THE PERFECT INSTRUMENT OF HIS KEEN MIND, HE DOES NOT SUFFER BY COMPARISON, AND THE GREAT LEE WHO SLEEPS BELOW MUST DO SO IN CONTENTMENT AT SEEING HIS PLACE SO ABLY FILLED.

DEAN ROBERT H. TUCKER

DEAN TUCKER IS A MAN WITH THE HAPPY FACULTY OF BEING ABLE TO MIX THEORY AND PRACTICE. HIS POSSESSION OF BUSINESS ACUMEN AND KNOWLEDGE OF THE FUNDAMENTAL PROCESSES OF FINANCE HAVE BEEN AMPLY REVEALED BY HIS WORK IN WHAT MIGHT BE TERMED THE EXTERIOR WORLD. HIS IDEAS ON ECONOMICS ARE THOROUGHLY SOUND, THEIR TEMPER PROVED IN THE FORGE OF THE WORLD OF AFFAIRS. HE TEACHES NO MERE THEORETICAL DOGMA WHICH WILL CRUMPLE UNDER ACTUAL CONDITIONS. THEREFORE, TO OUTSIDERS, DR. TUCKER'S ACHIEVEMENTS BEYOND THE BOUNDS OF EDUCATION MAY ACCOUNT FOR HIS RANKING PLACE ON THIS CAMPUS. WE, HOWEVER, WHO KNOW HIM AS A MAN RATHER THAN AS A FIGURE, RECOGNIZE THAT IT IS NOT HIS SUCCESS IN SUCH FIELDS WHICH ACCOUNTS FOR HIS EMINENT POSITION. RATHER IT IS HIS IDEAL OF SERVICE AN IDEAL WITNESSED BY HIS RECORD OF OVER TWENTY YEARS OF LOYAL AND FAITHFUL DEVOTION TO THE UNIVERSITY. WE LOVE HIM AS A FRIEND AND RESPECT HIM AS A PERSONAGE.

LOFTY COLUMNS

ARCHITECTURE'S SUBLIMEST CONCEPTION

DEAN FRANK J. GILLIAM

FROM FRESHMAN CAMP TO SENIOR FINALS THE DEAN OF STUDENTS IS ONE OF THE MOST IMPORTANT MEN OF THE FACULTY WITH WHOM THE STUDENT COMES IN CONTACT. FROM THE ARRANGEMENT OF FRESHMAN COURSES TO THE APPLICATION FOR GRADUATE ADMITTANCE, THROUGH CHOICE OF FRATERNITIES, FORMATION OF EXTRA-CURRICULAR INTERESTS, AND ATHLETIC PARTICIPATION, IN ALL PHASES OF UNIVERSITY LIFE THIS DEAN IS PRESENT. WASHINGTON AND LEE IS FORTUNATE IN HAVING AS CAPABLE A MAN AS DEAN GILLIAM TO FILL THIS RESPONSIBLE POSITION. VOLUNTARILY HE UNDERTAKES THE TEACHING OF FRESHMAN CLASSES SO THAT HE MAY BRING HIMSELF IN CLOSER TOUCH WITH THE NEW ARRIVALS. HIS LASTING IMPRESSION IS ONE OF CHEERFUL FRIENDLINESS. NEVER DO HIS CAPABLY-PERFORMED MULTIPLE DUTIES KEEP HIM FROM DIRECT CONTACT WITH THE STUDENTS, A CONTACT WHICH BOTH HE AND THEY ENJOY. CLOSEST TO THEM IN LINE OF DUTY, HE IS PERHAPS CLOSEST IN THEIR AFFECTIONS.

DIGNIFIED MAJESTY

DR. JAMES LEWIS HOWE

A TRUE GENTLEMAN AND THE OLDEST IN POINT OF SERVICE OF THE FACULTY, DR. HOWE IS A MAN EQUALLY AT HOME IN AN ASSEMBLY OF THE WORLD'S RANKING CHEMISTS OR IN THE MIDST OF HIS FIRST YEAR CLASS. HIS STUDIES IN REALMS OF WHICH THE AVERAGE MAN CAN GRASP LITTLE CONCEPTION HAVE NOT CREATED IN HIM CONTEMPT FOR THOSE OF THE EVERYDAY. HE HAS THE TOLERANCE BORN FROM VAST KNOWLEDGE, YET IT IS TRUE, FRIENDLY TOLERANCE, NOT CONDESCENSION. SUCCEEDING YEARS HAVE NOT TOUCHED HIM HARSHLY NOR MADE OF HIM A CRABBED CONSERVATIVE. YET NEITHER HAVE THEY PASSED HIM OVER. RATHER HAVE THEY GIVEN HIM A SENSE OF VALUES POSSESSED BY FEW. HIS STUDIES HAVE TAUGHT HIM THAT BECAUSE A THING IS NEW, IT IS NOT NECESSARILY GOOD, AS YOUTH MAINTAINS, NOR BAD, AS AGE WOULD HAVE IT. PERHAPS IT IS THIS CONCEPTION WHICH GIVES DR. HOWE HIS ADMIRED SOUNDNESS. BRIEFLY, THEN, WHAT THE YEARS HAVE ACTUALLY DONE IS TO GIVE HIM THE POWER OF GUIDING THE HANDS OF YOUTH BY LEAVING HIM IN FULL POSSESSION OF THE SPIRIT WHICH MOVES THOSE HANDS.

WASHINGTON AND LEE

Dr. Shannon brings Chaucer from the fields of Olde England to the odoriferous interior of the Chemistry Building . . . the editor and "Snooks" Powell show off their dears during Finals . . . now we know what football players do in their spare time . . . or is football just a relaxation from the strenuous sport of croquet? . . . Homecoming brought this assemblage to the gym to prepare for the Wahoo's defeat the next day . . . Editor Fiske hard at work turning out the next edition of the "Southern Collegian" . . . The last of the Sigma litanies . . . Great George, we thank thee . . . this touching little scene of domestic bliss took place as the boys were resting from their arduous labors on the dance floor . . . we don't know what the glass in the lower left hand corner is for . . . Dr. and Mrs. Gaines occupy the box at the Duke game . . . a whirlwind by the name of Parker got loose on the field that day much to our sorrow . . . Cy Young imparts words of wisdom to one of the greatest basketball teams in the history of the school . . . that is, to all of the team but Bill Ellis who is otherwise occupied . . . Fitz Flournoy holds forth in the next shot . . . the group beside him features Sam McCorkle, late of Welch's Beach and Mike's "fun-spot," now of W. V. U.

Washington and Lee Swing

Come, cheer for Washington and Lee,
We're going to win another victory.
The White and Blue we will ever wave in triumph
For the University. Rah! Rah! Rah!
Fight to the finish, we are with you,
Break through the line on every play,
Rush the ball on down the field,
And we will win this game today.

CHORUS

When Washington and Lee's men fall in line
We're going to win again another time.
For W. and L., I yell, I yell, I yell.
And for the University I yell, I yell, I yell,
And so fight, fight, fight for every yard,
Circle the ends and hit the line right hard,
And we will roll Virginia on the sod.
Rah! Rah! Rah!

WRESTLING WAS A TRUE "GIFT OF THE GODS" TO THE GREEKS, LEGEND HAVING IT THAT ATHENA HERSELF TAUGHT IT TO THESEUS. THIS BELIEF LED TO ITS WIDESPREAD PRACTICE AND THE WRESTLING ARENA WAS A FAMILIAR LANDMARK IN EVERY GREEK CITY.

The first CALYX was published in 1895, and in it are found the oldest records of Washington and Lee athletics. In those days crew and baseball held more interest than football, and the "fight" song of the school was sung to the tune of "There is a Tavern in the Town." Crew began in 1874, and up to 1897 the Albert Sidney Crew had won ten of the nineteen races rowed. The Pinckney

Prize Cup, a monumental silver mug, was presented to the winner of the annual classic. That year the baseball team beat V. M. I. twice, 7-2 and 11-2. The football team was not as lucky, winning one and losing one to the same school. The athletic curriculum was completed by a field day of track events, the tennis team, and a gym team. The Troubadours of Washington and Lee completed one of the most successful seasons they have ever enjoyed during 1935-36, both from an æsthetic and a practical viewpoint.

The construction of a completely equipped Little Theatre seating 250 patrons was perhaps the highlight of the year from a practical standpoint. Due to two gifts, one of $1,300 from the Publications Board and one of $600 from the Executive Committee, the Troubs were able to completely revamp the old ex-theatre at the corner of Main and Henry streets into a modern and completely satisfactory structure designed to fit the players' needs.

Mr. Lawrence E. Watkin, serving as faculty director, did much toward the completion of the Little Theatre, aided by Lewis McMurran, the president.

Stressing quality rather than quantity, the annual repertory consisted of several carefully designed and executed plays, notably the "Merchant of Venice," which was given at the grand opening of the Little Theatre. Desiring to make this opening play in keeping with the auspicious occasion, an unusual amount of effort was expended on every detail of the production, which was pronounced by all who saw it as a decided success.

ATHLETIC ADMINISTRATION

"Captain Dick"
SMITH

Heading Washington and Lee's Alumni coaching staff is Captain Richard A. Smith. Member of the Class of 1912, "Captain Dick" returned here in September, 1921, to assume the duties of Graduate Manager of Athletics, after a successful sojourn in the same capacity at Fishburne Military Academy. During the past fifteen years, "Captain Dick" has coached football, basketball, and baseball. The culmination of his success came at the end of the past season when he guided the baseball team to a Southern Conference Championship.

* * * *

ASSISTANT COACHES BOLEN, MITCHELL AND JONES

Inaugurating his second successive year as head coach of freshman football, Coach Bolen was rewarded by a successful season. Assisting him was "Chip" Jones, who served as backfield coach. He followed this assignment by tutoring a powerful freshman quintet. "Pat" Mitchell's expert scouting should also be recognized as a valuable contribution to University athletics.

COACH TILSON—Finishing his third year as head football coach, Tex Tilson led a team which was not distinguished so much for the number of games won as for fight and clean play. Former Captain of the Big Blue gridiron warriors himself, his sterling characteristics were revealed in the play of the team in such minutes as those when the Centre jinx was broken. His sportsmanlike teachings are in the true spirit of the institution his team represents.

TEX TILSON
Head Football Coach

COACH FLETCHER—Forest Fletcher has served longer on the Washington and Lee athletic staff than any of his associates. Coming here immediately before the United States' entrance into the World War, this Notre Dame alumnus has successfully coached track and cross-country in addition to being an important figure in intramural activities. The past two years have seen him bring still more glory to Washington and Lee in his merited office as President of the Southern Conference.

COACHES YOUNG, MATHIS, AND TWOMBLY—Washington and Lee's greatest all-around athlete returned to his Alma Mater by doubling his duty as alumni secretary with his coaching of basketball and football. The phenomenal record of the Big Blue quintet can only be accredited to Cy Young's brilliant tutoring.

If any one man should be honored for giving prominence to Southern wrestling, Coach Mathis is that man. As sensational mentor of successful wrestling teams, his record of the past seven years has approached perfection as closely as any coach might desire. This record and his personal initiative culminated in the bringing of the National Collegiate Wrestling Tournament to Doremus Gymnasium. This year the tournament has an added interest as the Olympic semi-finals.

One of the best all-around athletes of which Springfield College can boast, Cy Twombly has coached more successful athletic teams than any one man on the staff. During his long stay here, Cy has been coach of freshman basketball and baseball, gymnastics, swimming, golf, and chief motivator of intramurals. Loved by every man on his teams, Coach Twombly has become one of the most admired men of the staff.

RESUME OF THE YEAR

VARSITY FOOTBALL

The Southern Conference champions of 1934, hampered by injuries and the seeming loss of that powerful little god, Luck, ended their 1935 season in seventh place in the conference. No team can win always, and the 1935 Generals did their best; no more should be demanded. However, the season was far from being a complete failure and the three games won, with the exception of the opening tilt against Wofford, are well worth remembering.

For the first time in at least a quarter century, Washington and Lee broke the "Centre jinx" and beat the Praying Colonels on their own field, 14 to 7. And for the fifth time in as many years the University of Virginia bowed on the gridiron to the Generals, losing 20 to 0 in a memorable Homecoming game in Lexington. Against a highly-favored Maryland team, W. and L. won as fine as a victory when they held the Terps to an 0 to 0 tie.

Duke University, behind its All-American "Ace" Parker, proved too strong for the Generals and ruined all early season hopes for another championship team. West Virginia, perennial winner over the Generals, triumphed again at Charleston. V. P. I. and South Carolina made up the other two defeats.

During the entire season Washington and Lee scored 52 points to their opponents' 70, Joe Arnold being the individual high point man for the Generals with 19 points. Seven Seniors played their last season for Washington and Lee; they were Jack Bailey (captain), Joe Arnold, Charley Sweet, Hugo Bonino, Ed Seitz, Bill Ellis, and George Lowry. Bonino was chosen tackle on the All-Southern Conference first team, while Ellis made the second team and Arnold the third. Bonino, Arnold, Berry, and Ellis won positions on the All-State eleven, with Bailey on the second team. Duane Berry, varsity guard for the past two years, was elected captain for the 1936 season.

As always with Washington and Lee teams, the 1935 squad kept up the tradition of sportsmanship and clean fighting that has become a by-word among our opponents. The score might be 26 to 0 against them, as it was in the last quarter with Duke, or it might be an 0 to 0 tie with but a few minutes left to play, but always the team fought as hard as it could and as well as it could until the final whistle blew. This spirit, in the long run, is far more important than winning an extra game or two.

FOOTBALL

WOFFORD

The 1935 football season opened auspiciously enough on the 28th of September at Wilson Field, Lexington, when Wofford College was defeated 18-0. The first touchdown of the year was scored by Joe Arnold on a long pass from Bill Ellis in the first five minutes of play. A few minutes later Ellis again passed, this time to Sample, for another touchdown. After this display of strength the first team was withdrawn and Coach Warren "Tex" Tilson gave every man on the bench a chance to show his potentialities under fire. A week later the Generals were to meet Duke in Richmond for what promised to be the big game of the year, and the coach didn't want to overlook any possible players.

DUKE

The Duke game will long be remembered by many a W. & L. man long after he has forgotten the principles of elementary economics. Though it may not be a particularly happy memory, it should at least be a vivid one. Over half the student body transferred itself bodily to Richmond for this game, and Duke's supporters were fully as numerous. Both teams realized that their chances for the Southern Conference championship hung in the balance. Duke was a pre-game favorite to win, and, unfortunately, did win, 26-0. In one short year Washington and Lee had achieved what no other Virginia school had ever done—won a Southern Conference football championship—and in a few short minutes in Richmond stadium they lost it again to a superbly balanced group of Blue Devils, who were later on to wreck the Rose Bowl hopes of the University of North Carolina.

Duke scored first blood on a penalty for clipping after the two teams had begun what appeared to be an evenly-matched battle before a record-breaking crowd. A few minutes later a blocked punt was recovered by Anderson, and an offside penalty on Duke on the next play gave the Generals the ball on Duke's 17-yard line, first down. Two plays brought the ball to the 11-yard line, but here the Blue Devils of Duke rallied to knock down two passes and stop the nearest approach to a Washington and Lee score during the entire game.

JONES SNARES A LONG PASS IN THE DUKE GAME

A few minutes later Duke began a brilliant series of passes and reverse end runs that netted the remaining 20 points. The most thrilling play of the game was a 58-yard run by Ward of Duke for a touchdown. Finally, in the fourth quarter, the Generals belatedly came back, stopped a Duke scoring thrust, and set Sample off on a 40-yard lateral pass play. The attempt failed, however, and the game ended a few minutes later with Washington and Lee still scoreless. As usual, Ellis, the Generals' end, who did all the punting, performed very well, though he was at his best in the Maryland game later in the season. Duke, admittedly, had a better team on that day than did Washington and Lee, but not a team that was 26 points better.

CENTRE

On October 19, at Louisville, Kentucky, a far better playing Washington and Lee team overcame a jinx that was older than any man on the team and beat the famous Praying Colonels of Centre College, 14-7, atoning for the Duke game in the best possible way. With over half a dozen native Kentuckians on their team, the Generals were led by Joe Arnold, who was born and raised almost within sight of the Centre campus. It was this same Joe Arnold, who, in the sixth play of the game, broke through the entire Centre team and ran 47 yards for a touchdown. Even before that, when the game had barely begun, Bonino charged through the Centre line to block a Centre kick and give the Generals two points when the ball went behind the goal line for a safety.

A few minutes later Centre began its own attack. Two completed passes and a 15-yard penalty on the Generals brought the ball down to the W. & L. five-yard line. Here, however, the offense stopped and Centre was unable to move forward the bare few feet to a touchdown. The Generals' second touchdown was made by Sample after a series of passes and a 22-yard dash by Arnold. Centre made their lone score on a 75-yard run after a fumble by Arnold. Once again Ellis' kicks brought the team out of tight spots and the work of Bonino showed why he later made the All-Conference team.

V. P. I.

Just as Washington and Lee had upset pre-game dope in beating Centre, so in the next game V. P. I. upset the Generals and beat them in turn, 15-0. This revenge against the Homecoming game of 1934, when

V. P. I. lost in the final minutes of play, was accomplished in the second half after two unfortunate fumbles by the Generals. In this game the State Championship faded away, as the Southern Conference Championship hopes had gone in the Duke encounter. During the first half the game was almost all played in V. P. I. territory, but the Generals, though backed up by several long runs, were unable to score. Tech took the initiative in the second half, however, and by playing the breaks succeeded in scoring twice. The two odd points making the score 15-0 were secured when five Tech-men broke through the Generals' line to block one of Ellis' punts into the end zone. Once, in the first half, Berry recovered a fumbled kick on the 11-yard line. V. P. I. rallied, however, and the chance was lost.

WEST VIRGINIA

On November 2 the Generals crossed the Alleghany Mountains to Charleston for the annual game with the University of West Virginia, which has become a semi-legal holiday for that state. For nearly three-quarters the two teams battled scorelessly with the Mountaineers. The ball see-sawed back and forth up and down the field, but never crossed a goal line until just before the end of the third quarter, when the West Virginians broke through with a sensational passing attack and scored three touchdowns in rapid succession to make the final score of the game 20-0.

VIRGINIA

Homecoming is usually the game that draws the biggest crowd of alumni and students during the year, and when the Homecoming game is against the Wahoos the prospects are bright indeed. For four years Washington and Lee had beaten Virginia, and on last November 2 the Generals made it their fifth gridiron victory in a row. The score, strangely, was the same as it was the year before, 20-0. Though through the entire first half Washington and Lee was held scoreless, much of it due to penalties, the second half was all W. & L.

Moore started the fireworks soon after the opening of the second half with a 55-yard run on an intercepted pass for the first touchdown. A few minutes later Arnold ran 45 yards down the field, only to be tackled

ARNOLD HAS TROUBLE IN GETTING AWAY FROM THE DUKE ENDS on the four-yard line. Bailey then scored, and later in the game Sample scored again on a line plunge for the third and final touchdown. The Big Blue team gained a total of 240 yards against Virginia's 60. The passing attack and defense, the blocking and the tackling of this game probably marked the highlight of the season for the Generals.

MARYLAND

The Generals played in two Homecoming games this year. Besides the one here against Virginia, they also played at the Homecoming of the University of Maryland the week following the Virginia game. In the mud and dirt and rain of College Park a highly touted Maryland team, edged on to revenge the 7-0 defeat of the previous year, was smothered to a 0-0 tie by a stubbornly tenacious Big Blue squad. Three times in the first half Maryland took the ball to the Generals' five-yard line, and each time the Generals held the Old Liners scoreless. A fumble against them, a long run by an opposing back, and a quick pass again brought the ball to the W. & L. one-yard line, first down for Maryland and goal to go—and once again the Big Blue line held. Only once, in the last quarter, did the Generals' offense work well enough for them to get inside Maryland's twenty, and the sole scoring attempt, a place-kick from this position, failed to go over. Never, however, did the Washington and Lee defense work better than it did that day, and never did Bill Ellis' toe behave better. Ellis, in spite of the rain, averaged 46 yards per kick and punted three over 70 yards.

SOUTH CAROLINA

The final game of the year, against a lowly rated South Carolina eleven, was another upset, this time against the Generals. Suffering an end-of-the-season slump, the Big Blue team was unable to score. South Carolina, playing heads-up ball, managed to break through and block one of Ellis' kicks, which the Generals recovered behind their own goal line, thus giving South Carolina the lone two points that decided the game.

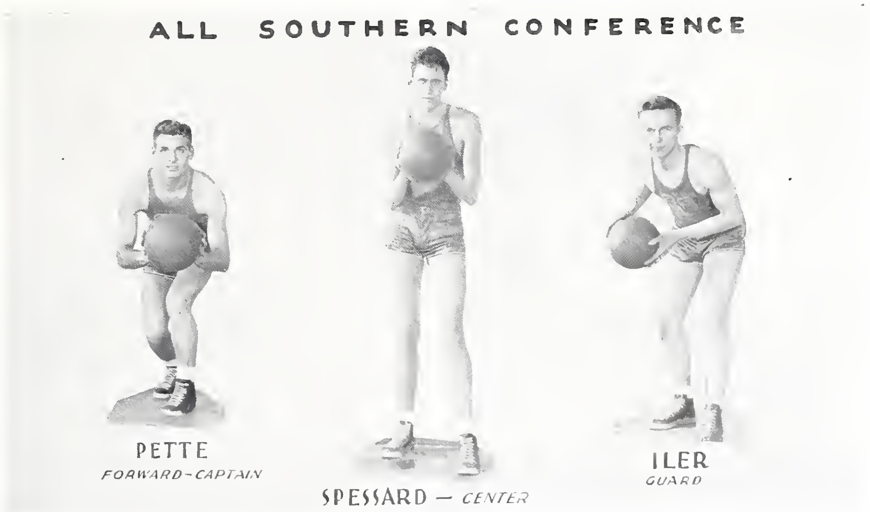
MAYNARD
Manager

Pride and joy of the athletic year 1935-36 at Washington and Lee was undoubtedly the meteoric rise of the basketball team. With few preliminary warnings outside of the fact that "we should have a pretty good year," the Generals' quintet hung up the well-nigh impossible record of 14 straight victories against the best teams in this part of the country. Downed by a tough break to lose by two points to an inferior William and Mary team, the Big Blue came back again to smother first Virginia and then Duke.

Entering the Southern Conference as the most top-heavy favorites in years, the five men who had made such an enviable record were forced to swallow a bitter pill when North Carolina University wondrously beat them in the finals.

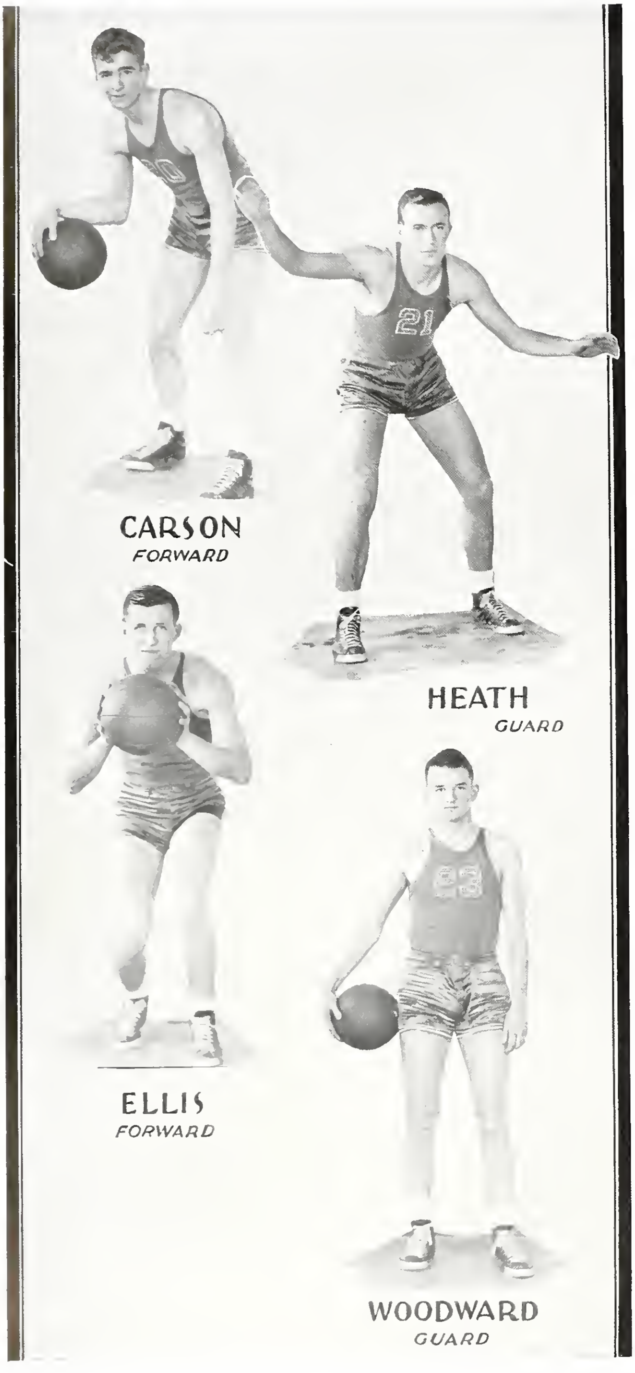
But far finer than their victories was the spirit which this team showed in defeat. It is this, probably more than even their record of wins and losses, which made the team a great team in the eyes of their fellow students. For every newspaper correspondent at the tournament, practically without exception, was so impressed with the sportsmanship and clean fighting spirit shown by the Generals, and the way they accepted defeat "like true gentlemen," that they wrote long words of praise in their stories. Most glowing tribute was that paid by Jimmie Jones of the Richmond Times-Dispatch. Said he, in part: "This Washington and Lee team was the cleanest playing team and the best group of sportsmen your faithful representative has ever laid eyes upon. Here is a salute to you, Captain Pette, Iler, Spessard, Heath, and Carson. . . . When they were clicking there were no smoother ball handlers in tournament history than the 'little four' revolving around the towering target that was Spessard."

Three men on this team were placed on the All-Conference team selected by coaches, officials and sports writers at the tournament. Iler was unanimously chosen as guard, Spessard won over Willis of Maryland as center, and Captain Pette was picked as forward. This is the second year that Pette and Iler have made the team. Carson was given a place on the second team, and Heath, the fifth member, received honorable mention. This was the first time in years that the All-Conference selections have been so dominated by one team, and probably the first time in tournament history that a team that was but runner-up placed a majority of its men on the all-star quintet.



These three Generals won coveted positions on the All-Southern Conference basketball team of 1936. Bob Spessard, in the middle, was the only sophomore on the conference first team; he is flanked by Norm Iler and Joe Pette, the captain, both of whom won the honor for the second year in a row.

Two sophomores, a senior and a junior. Bill Ellis was a varsity man for his third and last time this year; Fielden Woodward has another year to go; while Kit Carson and Wes Heath both have two more years of play for the Big Blue. All but Heath in this group hail from Kentucky.



In winning the state title the Generals dashed the hopes of the University of Richmond and placed Spessard, Iler, and Pette on the All-State team, with Heath receiving honorable mention. Spessard was high-point man for the year, with Pette second and Iler third.

The Generals began this long-remembered season with an easy victory over the Roanoke Y. M. C. A. The second game of the season, against the National Business College of Roanoke, nearly upset the Generals and was one of the closest contests of the season, Pette scoring the winning basket in the last minute of play.

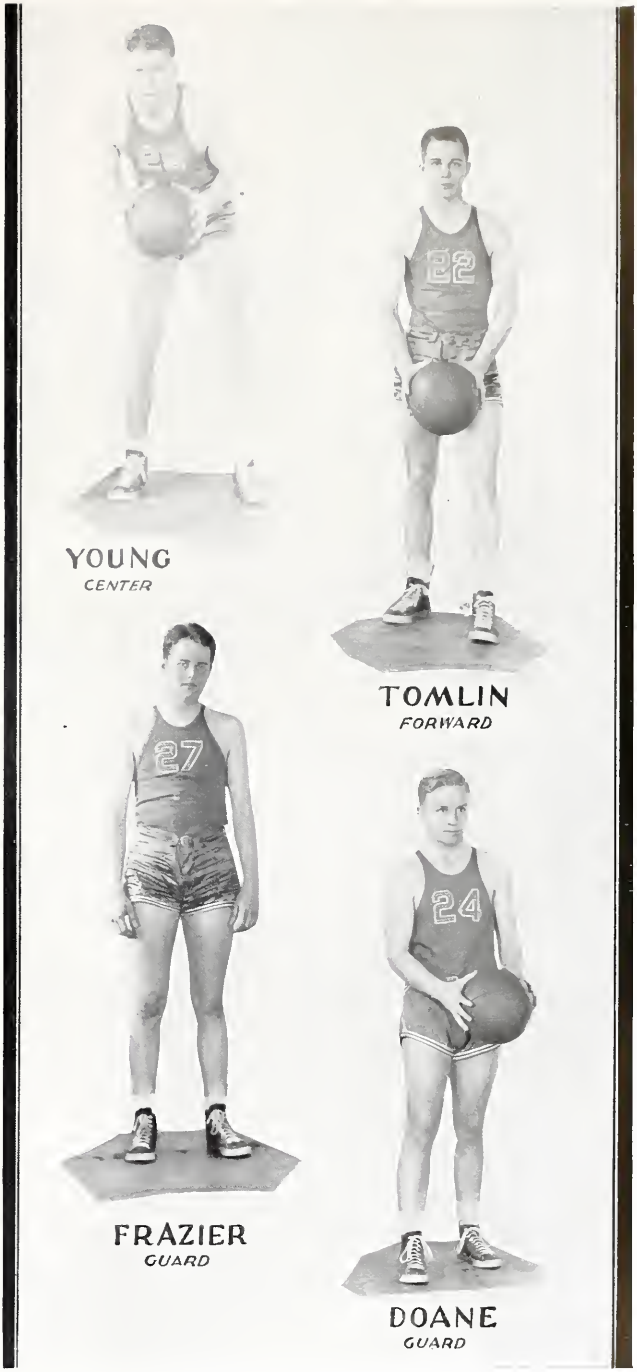
After these two preliminary games, the Generals dusted off Elon College and then started going in the conference. First Maryland fell, then North Carolina University, William and Mary, Virginia, and V. P. I. followed. By this time the rumor began to get out that the Big Blue had a basketball team that was going to be hard to beat. When North Carolina State and Clemson joined the fallen and V. P. I. was beaten a second time, the rumor became a fact. At this stage of the season there were two unbeaten teams in the state of Virginia, the other being the University of Richmond, which at that time was not in the conference. On February 14 the Richmond Spiders descended on Lexington, determined to beat the Big Blue if humanly possible. In the words of one of their men, "we'd rather beat W. & L. than win from all the other teams on our schedule." It was the last home game for the Generals and the biggest crowd of the year was packed into Doremus gymnasium. Washington and Lee got off to an early lead and remained ahead until the last few minutes of play. An inspired Spider team suddenly caught up with and then passed the Generals to take the lead. With one minute left to play, the Big Blue was three points behind. In a frantic scramble under the basket Spessard made a basket to bring the margin down to one point. Then, with the last minute halfway gone, Iler of the Generals, standing coolly in mid-court, made one of the most beautiful shots that has ever gone through the hoops in Doremus gymnasium. In the remaining few seconds Spessard was fouled and made both his shots good to put the game on ice. All in all, the Generals scored six points in the last 59 seconds of play.

If but to prove that this victory was well deserved, the undefeated state champions played Richmond two weeks later in the Spiders' home court and trounced them 41-32.

The first set-back of the season that marred an otherwise perfect record occurred the next night when William and Mary, playing far over its head, won by a lone basket, 58-56. Rallying from this lone defeat, the Generals finished their regular season by trouncing Virginia and Duke. In 17 games during the year the Big Blue won 16 and lost only the one to William and Mary.

At the annual Southern Conference tournament at Raleigh, Washington and Lee was naturally favored to win. V. P. I. was beaten in the first round, and Maryland in the second. The final game for the championship was against the White Phaetons of N. C. U., twice before beaten by the Generals. Weary after a long, hard season and suffering from colds, the Big Blue team was unable to retain their lead at half-time and were upset in the final period to lose 50-45 to the Southern Conference champions. Spessard was individual high-point man for the tournament with 42.

Well-balanced, generous winners, sportsmanlike losers and great basketball players, this year's team will not be soon forgotten by anyone who saw them in action.



Every player in this group will be back to play next year for the Generals, and 75 per cent have two more years to go. Tony Young, Mike Tomlin and Frank Frazier were all members of last year's state championship freshman squad, while Russ Doane played his second season with the varsity.

SOUTHERN CONFERENCE CHAMPIONS

The Southern Conference wrestling championship, which hasn't been out of the city of Lexington in four years, moved some 300 yards down Letcher Avenue on the evening of last March 7 and came to rest once more in Doremus gymnasium. That little trip was the result of Washington and Lee's winning of the Southern Conference wrestling championship for the third time in four years. It was won back from nearby V. M. I., who took it from the Generals last year. The final score of this year's meet was 33-30, with V. M. I. second. Though technically the Southern Conference meet, for the past few years the battle has actually been between the two Lexington teams, the Keydets and the Generals.

Rowland Thomas, co-captain of the team, did what no wrestler before him had ever done in winning a Southern Conference championship for the third time. Thomas wrestled in the 118-pound class. The other co-captain, Glenn Shively, won a championship for the second time at 145 pounds, as did Carl Arenz at 155 pounds. Ed Seitz and Marty Kaplan, the first at 165 pounds and the second at 175 pounds, won first places in their respective weight classes for the first time.

In their regular season the Generals continued their amazing string of victories, losing only one meet, to Navy, by a close margin. Journeying over 1,200 miles to meet two of the strongest teams in the Mid-West, the University of Michigan and Michigan State, the Generals humbled them both by easy victories. With the single exception of Navy, no team secured more than 8 points against the team in any one meet. The Big Blue scored a grand total of 151 points to their opponents' 33. This was Coach Mathis' sixth year of turning out outstanding teams here.

Hugo Bonino . . . undefeated in four years of dual meets and finalist in the National Collegiate Wrestling Championships held here in March . . . one of Washington and Lee's outstanding athletes.

Carl Arenz, having annexed a Southern Conference Championship this year, will form the principal nucleus around which next season's team will be built.

Frank Crew and Ed Seitz will leave gaps hard to fill by their graduation . . . after a hard luck failure Ed fulfilled an ambition by taking a conference title this year . . . Frank helped provide the slim margin of points which nosed out V. M. I.

Marty Kaplan . . . the man who can't be pinned . . . to him also belongs one of the six championships of which the Generals can boast.

Washington and Lee has never had two finer captains for her wrestling team than Glenn Shively and Rowland Thomas . . . champions both, they led one of the best teams in the history of the school.

The season opened on January 11, when Duke University was roundly whitewashed 38-0 in Wilson gymnasium, every General winning his match with comparative ease. Two weeks later the Big Blue met Virginia Polytechnic Institute at Blacksburg and practically repeated the process, this time winning by a score of 36-0. The next scheduled meet, with the University of North Carolina, had to be canceled because of a sudden snowstorm.

On February 15 the Generals traveled to Annapolis to meet their sole defeat of the season at the hands of a powerful Navy team by the close score of 12-16. Matched man for man, the Generals won as many bouts as Navy, four, but the Middies won several of their bouts by falls, while the Big Blue had but time advantages to their credit.

A week later, in the midst of winter's snows, an undaunted W. & L. squad set off for the state of Michigan to meet the teams of the two biggest schools in that territory, the University, at Ann Arbor, and Michigan State, at East Lansing. Both of these teams were highly rated in the Mid-West. February 22, at East Lansing, the best that Michigan State could do netted them but 8 points while the Generals were rolling up a total of 20. Two nights later the University of Michigan matmen went down to a similar defeat, 20-6. In the heavyweight encounter "Tiny" Wright of Michigan, highly touted as the best in the Big Ten Conference, was pinned by "Tubby" Owings in a bare 50 seconds.

In their last meet of the regular season, the Generals met and downed the North Carolina State Gamecocks, 25-3. Those three points that North Carolina won a match by a time advantage on were the only points scored against the Generals by Southern Conference foes during the entire season.

On March 7, in Ninety-four Hall at V. M. I., the Generals avenged a stinging defeat by the Keydets in 1934 and took back the championship by a bare margin of three points. Besides Thomas, Shively, Seitz, Arenz, and Kaplan, who won firsts, Owings and Basile won seconds, and Crew won third in his weight, to place every man on the team. Owings lost to Farley of V. M. I. in the heavyweight class, while Basile was in the 135-pound class and Crew at 125 pounds.

Two weeks later, when Washington and Lee played host to the nation's wrestlers in the N. C. A. A. championships, Hugo Bonino earned the right to enter the American Olympic finals by placing second in the heavyweight division, losing to Scobey of Lehigh in the finals. A word should also be said about Calvert Thomas, who, wrestling in his first tournament, won his first two matches and showed great promise for the coming year.

Palmer and Evans effectively held down the 118-pound assignment during the regular season when Thomas moved up a class.
After Lowry became ineligible Dave Basile stepped in to fill his shoes . . . he proved himself entirely capable of the job and was a finalist in the conference tournament.
Calvert Thomas, with only a little experience, stepped into the National Tournament and won his first two matches . . . with such a start, Mathis need not worry about the 145-pound class for two more years.

SUMMARY

Last spring Washington and Lee hung yet another Southern Conference championship in its belt with the unexpected victories of the baseball team. Though all the Southern Conference schools were not played, the Generals failed to lose a game to a conference school. Duke, placing second, was defeated once by Maryland. In a bitter four-game series with the University of Richmond, Washington and Lee lost the state championship by a one-game margin. Twenty-three games were played by the General nine, and of these seventeen were won, two were ties, and four were defeats—one of the finest records of any college ball club in the South and East.

In series encounters, only Dartmouth and Richmond were able to boast of coming out ahead of Washington and Lee. William and Mary eked out a single victory, which was later rubbed out in a return match.

Beginning the season with a trip on Richmond during Easter vacation, the team won two games, lost one and tied one. Two games scheduled with Richmond Medical College were rained out. On this trip Richmond was first beaten and then tied. William and Mary was beaten in the second encounter, but won the first.

Swinging into their regular season, the Big Blue nine beat Vermont, lost to Dartmouth, and then went on to an unbroken string of victories until set back by Richmond last in April. Pitchers Joe Pette and Emerson Dickman got better as the season went along, several times turning in exceptional records against some of the best pitchers in the South. Though they both lost two games apiece, the deciding runs against them were unearned.

After Maryland beat Duke, which until then had had an unbeaten record, the Generals' chances for the Conference championship depended upon beating the Terps for a second time.

On April 18 the teams met for the first time on Wilson Field, and behind the pitching of Pette the Generals pounded out a 9-3 victory. On May 10 the Generals again won, 7-4. Near the close of the season William and Mary was beaten to give the Big Blue a margin of two victories against their one defeat by the Indians. In the final game of the year the Generals turned back Navy, 3-2, thus completing their most successful season since the team of 1919, which was undefeated. In conference games the Generals had a percentage of 1.000, and for the season as a whole their percentage was .810.

George Short served as captain of the team, while Sam Mattox won a wrist watch as a remembrance from W. and L. sports fans for being "an ideal sportsman." Jimmy Jordan served as manager of the team and Al Durante was junior manager. It was Captain Short who most appropriately ended the 1935 season when he singled in the tenth inning of the Navy game, with the count two and three on him and two men out, to send Iler across the plate with the winning run.

Sam Mattox led the squad in batting with an average of .356. He also led in scoring with 29 runs to his credit. Joe Pette was second in batting averages with .341, followed by Short (who hit the most home runs), Dickman, and Iler. It was Dickman's hitting in the pinches that twice decided games favorably for the Generals.

Causes for the few defeats the team suffered were largely errors and misplays. In the game against Richmond the Generals were leading until the ninth inning, when Pette's wild pitch gave the battle to Richmond, 9-8. The second defeat by Richmond was also very close, 5-4. Dartmouth won the only clean-cut victory of the season over the Generals, 4-0.

Though William and Mary won their first contest from the Big Blue by the imposing score of 8-1, they were later beaten 9-8 and 2-1. The only two Seniors on the first team were Sam Mattox and Captain Short.

Probably the most thrilling game of the year was the second contest against Maryland, which decided the conference championship. On that same afternoon the golf team had lost their Southern Conference championship of a year ago by taking third place at Sedgefield Country Club. The baseball game, which was played at College Park, thus brought in a new conference crown to replace the one that had just been lost.

Until the eighth inning the game looked bad for the Generals, though Dickman's pitching had been up to par. In this inning, however, the batting slump ended and the Generals pushed over enough runs to cinch the championship. Howerton provided the first thrill when he hit a triple with two on. Captain Short followed him to the plate, and, just to cinch things, knocked out a long home run, scoring Howerton and himself.

Besides Dickman and Pette, Chip Jones and MacIntosh made up the Big Blue hurling staff. Captain Short was the catcher. Howerton played first, Fields was second, and Pullen third baseman. Iler completed the infield, with Bricker as utility man. Mattox was center field, Moore left field, and either Pette, Dickman or Cochran at right field. Cochran unfortunately broke his thumb in mid-season and was out for the remainder of the schedule.

Though at first their victories aroused little interest, as the season wore on the champions' sensational playing brought student interest in baseball to the highest pitch it has held in years.

STARS OF THE

No matter what may be the weaknesses of the Washington and Lee track team in other lines, it can always boast a good hurdler . . . this team has been no exception, for in Bill Schule, captain of the team. Coach Fletcher has developed a hurdler who is an Olympic prospect . . . his fame has spread beyond this part of the country for he won the Far Western 400 meter hurdles championship during the past summer.

In Dick Dunaj the competitive spirit is developed to the highest degree . . . he may surely be called an "iron man," for it was not an uncommon thing to see him win the half-mile, the mile, and the two mile events in one afternoon . . . Dick never knew when he was beaten and this spirit has made him one of Washington and Lee's greatest distance men.

SUMMARY

The Washington and Lee track squad, under the excellent tutelage of Coach Forrest Fletcher, has long stressed quality rather than quantity in its contests. Every year, for nearly a decade, the Generals have had two or three really outstanding men on the track team. As a consequence, though W. & L. has not won a great many meets in the past few years, W. & L. men hold many a conference and track record individually. The 1935 track season was no exception to this rule. Dick Dunaj, in distance running, and Billy Schuhle, in the hurdles, broke numerous records, and were aided by another small group of good but not exceptional men.

The Generals won one out of three dual meets, finished fourth in the state meet, and sent only three men to the Southern Conference meet, all of whom placed in their respective events.

In their first meet of the year the Big Blue beat V. P. I., 67-59. G. W. Lowry scored 17 points alone. Dunaj won the two-mile run and took second in the half-mile. Lowry won first in the hurdles and Schuhle was third (he tripped on a hurdle and lost out for first). Schuhle won the high hurdles, Brasher the discus throw, Dyer the shot put, Lowry the broad jump, and Robertson the javelin. Davis took second in the mile, and the Generals won every place in the javelin and broad jumps.

cant by Dick Dunaj for the coming year . . . with no previous experience Price has developed into a man able to replace Dunaj in the short space of two seasons.

Duke Dyer capably handled the weight assignment . . . Jim Robertson threw the javelin, having been recruited from a manager's position . . . Berry and Brasher alternated in the field events . . . Charlie Brasher was almost a pentathlon man . . . he threw the discus, broad jumped, and even ran the hundred yard dash . . . versatility did not impair his ability in each of these lines.

Ed Hiserman and Frank Price were the outstanding sprinters on the team while Browning and Wharton ran the middle distances . . . Mention should also be made of Bob Kingsbury who shows promise of developing into an excellent distance man.

In the second meet, against Duke, the Generals were rather badly beaten, 97-29. As usual, the small number of W. & L. men entering prevented that piling up of second and third places that decides most meets. For individual honors, Bunaj took first in the mile and two-mile, and Schuhle finished ahead in the low hurdles and second in the high. Against the University of Richmond the Generals were only able to place Dunaj first in the mile (where he set a new course record of 4:29.2), Schuhle first in the low hurdles (time 24.6, a new record on the course), Dyer first in the shot put, and Brasher in the discus. Against Maryland and V. P. I., W. & L. took last place in a triangular meet.

For the seventh time in as many years the University of Virginia won the state track championship on May 11 on Wilson Field. Dunaj ended his remarkable career as a trackman by breaking the two-mile record (time, 9:52.6). Schuhle again won the low hurdles, while Brasher and Dyer placed third in the discus and pole vault, respectively. Only Brasher, Dunaj, and Schuhle entered the Southern Conference meet at Chapel Hill. Dunaj again won the two-mile. Schuhle unfortunately tripped on his last hurdle and finished fourth, his time being 23.8. Brasher, the other entrant, took third in the discus.

Not one but two Southern Conference championships were tucked away for a year by Washington and Lee teams on March 7. Besides the wrestling team, the Generals' swimming team beat out Duke University, their nearest competitor, to win the conference championship for the second consecutive year. Washington and Lee's final score at the meet, which was held at Duke, was 42, Duke had 33, and the University of North Carolina was close behind with 28. Altogether, the Generals won six first places and broke two records. The relay team of Wagner, Brasher, Lund, and Griffin did the 400 yards in 3:56, while Griffin swam the 220-yard free style in record time of 2:26 to break the record of last year's W. & L. captain, Duncan McDavid.

During their regular season the Generals won every meet they entered, beginning with Duke on February 15, who was beaten 54-30. Virginia Polytechnic Institute was able to amass but 26 points while the Generals rolled up 58. William and Mary was beaten nearly as badly, 53-31. One of the closest meets of the season was against the University of Virginia on February 26, which the Generals won, 49-35. In the last meet the Big Blue journeyed to Baltimore to meet and conquer Johns Hopkins, 45-23.

This was the second year that Coach "Cy" Twombly's men had upset pre-season dope and come through undefeated. A good many of 1934's crack team left school and it needed the addition of last year's Freshmen's stars to keep the record clean.

In the conference meet at Duke after the close of the regular season, the Generals showing was superb. Besides winning the 220, Griffin also won the 440 free style. Captain Charley Brasher won the 100-yard free style and took second in the dives. Paul Levietes won first in the back stroke. The medley relay team, composed of Levietes, Taylor, and Wagner, cinched the meet by winning first place. Wagner also won third in the hundred and Taylor took fourth in the breaststroke. A. R. Abrahams, Jr., was Senior manager of the team. Because of the remarkable showing of Captain Brasher and Griffin during the season, these two men were awarded major monograms instead of the customary minor ones.

The non-fraternity organization, Touring Tigers, won the Intramural cup for the largest number of team points garnered in individual sports. Kappa Alpha fraternity was second and Sigma Alpha Epsilon third.

These aggregate scores, which are gathered in various events throughout the year, represent the mechanism through which the large body of Washington and Lee students not participating in varsity and inter-school sports are given an inducement to keep in good physical condition and develop the competitive spirit. Many an intramural battle is fought as fiercely and means as much to the participants as a football game between Washington and Lee and Virginia or Duke.

The intramural year begins with touch football. Sigma Alpha Epsilon, using all the power of numbers, won this championship over the Touring Tigers. Quarter finalists were Beta Theta Pi and Phi Delta Theta.

Alpha Tau Omega, for the third year in a row, eliminated Kappa Alpha in basketball this year to go on to retain the championship by defeating Delta Tau Delta in the finals. The Delts had previously defeated Phi Gamma Delta in the other semi-final matches. Bolen, of the A. T. O.'s was high-point man with 12 of his team's scores.

One day later the Touring Tigers placed first with the Delts again second in the intermural swimming meet. Four freshmen, White of Pi K. A., Baker of Touring Tigers, Funk of D. U., and Kerkow of S. A. E. won first places while the 200-yard relay was won by Delta Tau Delta with Hancock, Funk, Wallace, and Wagner.

In handball the Touring Tigers, led by Dick Dunaj, won first place. Sigma Alpha Epsilon defeated Phi Gamma Delta for the volleyball championship in two straight games. The horseshoe champion crowned was Donaldson of Phi Delta Theta.

Phi Gamma Delta men secured the most points to win the wrestling title. In the annual intramural track meet Phi Kappa Sigma and Delta Tau Delta tied for first place with 31½ points apiece. Sigma Chi was second and S. A. E. third. Sigma Alpha Epsilon walked away with the golf tournament, placing three of the four men entered in the semi-finals. The intramural year closed with the Touring Tigers beating Sigma Nu 16-2 in the baseball finals.

Once more the glamorous court of Elizabeth came to life. The sturdy "beefeaters" of Renaissance, England, the swaggering freebooters, the steel-sinewed lords of that glorious age again trod the halls of the Tudor castle. The handsome Leicester, Glenn Shively, was touchingly returned to court by the gracious Virgin Queen, Miss Bessie Goode, as the anachronism Groucho Marx was forever shunted into the dark hinterlands.

The coming tears of graduation were unthought of on the opening night of the Finals of 1935. Assisted by the lilting music of the able Hal Kemp, the "sweet sorrow" of parting was momentarily forgotten. Next day was the typically gay one expected of Finals and the Sigma German that night was at least satisfactory. Then the famous black and white figure of Final Ball was formed. The last morning, however, left a spreading anti-climatic feeling as the Seniors were denied the sentimental "College Friendship" by the too urbane Glen Gray.

Appreciation . .

I WISH to express here my appreciation for the work done by those men without whose aid this book would never have been possible. Perhaps first among them should stand the name of Leonard Glover who represented the engraving company for the 1936 CALYX. Friend, counselor, and alumnus of Washington and Lee he has taken far more than a business attitude toward the CALYX; I count it a distinct pleasure to have been able to work with him and will remember this work if for no other reason than that it brought me in contact with him. Bill Daniel is responsible for the development of the theme of this book. Representing the printing company, his aid has been invaluable and his thorough understanding of every aspect of this work has eliminated most of the blunders I would have made alone. Even at the risk of his own health he did not hesitate to try and help me when the going got a little rough. Working with these men was Andy McClung and his helpers at the photographer's studio. Andy was responsible for all the portraits and group shots appearing in the CALYX this year, and I believe he and his assistants have done an extraordinarily fine job, especially when they had to listen to my pleas for pictures under conditions which made it almost impossible to do good work. Also in this group I would like to include Howard Henry, who is responsible for the art work of the CALYX, and Mr. Robert Benson, who handled all the manuscript copy for the book at the printers. Mr. Henry's work you can judge for yourself; it certainly cannot fail to impress you as it did me. Mr Benson's work is not so apparent but the chances are the CALYX would not have come from the presses until next Fall without his constantly keeping me at a job which lends itself so easily to procrastination.

Among the men here at the University who contributed to the CALYX I wish first to thank Professor Riegal and Barclay Dillon who are almost entirely responsible for the snapshot section. With their candid camera shots they have, I believe, made a section entirely different from anything which has appeared in the CALYX in recent years. Next my thanks go to Charlie Clarke, who did almost superhuman work on the Athletic Section when called in at the last minute. Joe Haselden, Bill Karraker, and Ben Anderson are chiefly responsible for compiling the data which appears in the book. Theirs was a very tedious job but, in spite of its monotony, it was well done. Charlie Sweet contributed the Opening Section to the CALYX along with several other personal write-ups; his ability to embellish the facts has for once been turned to very good use. Also may be included here the rest of the staff; I would like to thank each one of them individually but space does not permit. Finally I wish to thank Bill Hudgins, editor-elect. His willingness to work at any time and to assume any responsibility makes his position on the staff as important as my own.

In conclusion may I express my gratitude to the student body for its cooperation in every way and its splendid support of the 1936 CALYX. I hope we, the staff, have been able to produce a book worthy of the trust they have placed in us.

Pieter de Hooch "Interior With a Woman Peeling Apples"

"WE ARE THE SOLE PUBLISHERS for the United States of THE MEDICI PRINTS, long regarded by many experts as the finest and most accurate color reproductions of the great and notable works of the painter's art through six hundred years. They enrich and beautify the walls and the portfolioos of the home, the office, the club, the school and the college. They belong wherever beautiful pictures are appreciated. Their cost is small. Their value cannot be measured in money."

WE PUBLISH BOOKS really worth owning —many of them beautifully illustrated—in the fields of Art, Belles-Lettres, Biography, Fiction, the Garden, Travel and Exploration. They are distinctive and not expensive.

WE PUBLISH GREETING CARDS distinguished for their beauty and refinement.

WE SHALL BE PLEASED to send lists and information upon request and to welcome you at our display rooms.

A Pleasant Week-End Awaits You . . .

Only two hours' drive from Lexington is "America's Most Beautiful All-Year Resort" where you may see the nation's ranking tennis stars play in frequent tournaments or may play a few sets yourself on the five championship clay courts. Enjoy a swim in the 105x40 foot mosaic-tiled indoor pool and then watch the Greenbrier Polo Club of intercollegiate stars ride into action in one of the matches which they hold almost every Saturday and Sunday throughout the Summer. Here are the finest facilities for riding . . . and for the golfer there are three championship courses.

Is the seed of success in you?

That is the question that every young man faces as the time draws near for him to enter the business world. If you are able to save money, you can succeed; if not, you will fail! You may not think so, but you will lose as sure as fate, for the seed of success is not in you. Man has two fundamental weaknesses. His inability to hang on to life as long as he desires and his inability to hang on to his material posessions. Life insurance is the only plan which is certain to offset these two fundamental weaknesses. It not only assists him to save his money but guarantees to him the safest investment and the most secure protection.

American Law Reports

Editors with years of specialized training examine all source books for cases in point and then slowly, carefully and accurately create step by step a presentation of "the law and the reason thereof" which unfolds the whole law on the point involved.

AMERICAN LAW REPORTS contain over 9,891 of these master briefs. Let us tell you how you may own them on terms far easier than you imagine.

✓ACCENT on
YOUTH

That's where life insurance puts it. When one is young he may become the owner of a life insurance estate at a lower cost while receiving relatively larger benefits. In youth, too, there is less likelihood that one will be found uninsurable. The foresighted young man makes life insurance his first investment.

Here's a Tip for the CANNY COLLEGIAN

THE "Big Men on the Campus" everywhere, forsaking the adolescent jerking thumb, palsied flivver and other means of travel, are swinging to Greyhound for all their trips. The day's best dollar value . . . it's miles ahead in convenience, comfort, congeniality. Compare it point by point and you'll join the canny collegian group.

THE REASON WHY

That MOLLOY-MADE covers have been used on so many of the nation's leading annuals over a long period of time is testimony to the fact that they really do represent more value.

The Calyx, like many other leading annuals, started using MOLLOY-MADE covers "away back when"—and the MOLLOY trademark on the cover of this 1936 issue is the best evidence of an eminently satisfactory standard of quality and service throughout the years.
